FENCE FLIERS SHOULD FURNISH THE FEATURE

By GEORGE B. UNDERWOOD. When Forrest Smithon of the Multcomah A. C., Johnny Garrels of Michigan, al Shaw of Dartmouth and Billy Rand f Harvard took the last fence almost streast in the final heat of the 110 meter surdle race at the Olympic Games in the Shepherds Bush Stadium, London, 1908, and raced neck and neck toward the apa Smithson breasting the worsted a east hand's breadth a winner in the great time of 15 seconds flat, the late amented James E. Sullivan turned to a friend and exclaimed : "Great guns, what a contest! We ever before saw a hurdle race the equal of that and we probably never again will see one. But if the God of Races as They should be Run ever again frames up such a struggle I willingly would cir-de the globe to see it."

If poor Jim Sullivan had not passed into the great beyond one would be cer-tain to find him at the track side at Wee-quahic Park, Newark, next Sunday afternoon. For from all the signs along the trail the "God of Races as They should Be Run" has arranged a hurdle race which will result in a contest which will make the memorable 110 meter final at the London Olympiad of 1908 pale into

In fact there are likely to be two hurdie races contested which will thrill the spectators even more than the great Olympic fence flying contest of 1908

Champions Galore Entered.

On next Friday and Saturday at Weequalic Park, Newark, the annual junior and senior track and field championships of the United States will be held. The junior events will be held on Friday and the struggle for the senior laurels will be waged on Saturday. And those of us who never have seen an Olympic meet can, by trekking to Newark see a carrival which will be Newark see a carrival which will be observed in everything except the name. No Olympic Games ever boasted a cassier entry list than has been received for the senior track and field championships of the little old U.S. A. at Weequalic Park next Saturday. Lithe limbed strong lunged, stout hearted champions from all over the country will compete the creating of Uncle Sammir's champions. The cream of Uncle Saminy's champions from the rock ribbed shores of Maine to the sun kissed slopes of the Sierras, from he Great Lakes to the Gulf, will struggle for the laurels.

Hurdle Races Will Penture.

The entry list is such a classy one that ordinarily it would be a herculean that ordinarily it would be a herculean task to pick out a feature event. But so phenomenal and closely matched fields will compete in the 120 yard high burdles and the 220 yard low hurdles that those two timber topping events seem to stand out above the others. In the 120 yard high hurdle event four men are entered, each of whom has bettered the wonderful mark of 15 seconds which Forrest Smithson made in win-which Forrest Smithson made in win-ning that great 110 meter (120,3 yards) aurile race at the London Olympiad. The four wonderful fence there who have support the timbers in faster time than did the great Smithson at London are list Simpson of the University of Masouri, Fred Kelly and Earl Thompson of the Los Angeles A. C. and Fred Mur-ay of the Olympic Club of San Fran-tro. Simpson has been credited with ray. Verle Murray, Joe Loomis and Simpson has been credited with doing 14 3-5 seconds for the 129 yard high hurdles and Kelly, Thompson and Murray all have marks of 14 4-5 seconds. Seededs Simpson, Kelly, Thompson and Frei Murray, such crack fence filers as Verle Murray, Joe Loomis and Simpson look to have just as good a chance of winning, the race appearing to be a toss up among the field. Never was as closely a matched and phenomenally fast a field of low fence flyers ever brought together. While Simpson and Jack Eller appear to have an outside chance in the low hurdles, it would not be at all surprising to see Simpson rise to the occasion and show as grand form over the low sticks as he does over the fall timbers. Jack Eller, one of the greatest low hurdlers that ever dug up clinders, is past his prime and does not appear to have a chance of capturing the premier laurels next Saturday. But Jack surprised the railbirds by his great race against the wind over the low fences at the Metropolitan championships last Saturday, and the veteran plonships last Saturday, and the veteran plonships last Saturday.

Simpson the Favorite.

The experts disagree. Most of them pois Simpson to nose out his rivals. Kelly base almost as strong a following among the experts, while others pick far Thompson, who twice this season to to by Kelly and who only was besten a foot by Kelly at the Western success.

form.

It looks as if Marc Wright of the Boston A. A., the world's record holder, would have to better 13 feet to win the pole vault next Saturday. Sherman Landers of the Chicago A. A. won the Central Association championships with the great vault of 12 feet 7% inches and looks capable of bettering the performance. R. W. Harwood of the Boston A. A., who tied with Wright at 11 feet 5 inches in the New England championships, Wright winning the jumpoff, is a dangerous contender. Charlie Fee of the Multnomah A. C. has done 12 feet 4 inches; Fred Watkins of the Los Angeles A. C. won the Far Western tryouts with a vault of 12 feet 3 inches, mosing out Johnson of the same club.

Most of the experts figure Landers will win the championship next Saturday win the championship next Saturday and it would occasion no surprise if Wright, the world's record holder, failed to get a place. He is not vaulting at his best just at present and needs to be in full form to capture the laureis next Saturday.

Some Wonderful Leapers.

Alma Richards of Cornell, Wesley Oier of Yale and the New York A. C., who defeated Richards in the intercollegiates; Egon Erickson, the former national champion, who beat Oier in the Metropolitans a week ago; Harry Barwise of the Boston A. A., the New England champion; Clinton Larson of Brigham Young University, the present national champion, and Joe Loomis of the Chicago A. A. all are jumping well over 6 feet and the running high jump event at Newark should be a classic.

So should the running broad jump and 644 inches; Hail of the San Diego A. C. and Joe Loomis of the Chicago A. A. will strive for the laurels.

Most of the experts think that the struggie for premier laurels in the discuss throw will be fought out between Aries Mucks, the young giant from the University of Wisconsin, and Emil Mueller of the New York A. C. Both Mucks and Mueller are more consistent than is Jim Duncan, the former national champion and record holder, but if Duncan gets in one of his good throws he will grain the

If Lee Talbott of the Kansas City A. A. comes Fast all of the weight men will have to look out for their laurels. At this writing it is not known whether Talbott is entered in the Newark meet. If he is he is likely to upset calculations in the discus and also will give I at Ryan, Matt Medirath and Babe Melonal of the battle of their lives in the Spound weight.
